

CCI Learning Partners with Certipro to Distribute Internet and Computing Core Certification (IC3) Courseware in Romania

Langley, BC – February 17, 2015

CCI Learning has partnered with Certipro in Romania to develop CCI Learning's Internet and Computing Core Certification (IC3) Global Standard 4 (GS4) courseware content into the Romanian language. Starting February 25, 2015, CCI Learning's IC3 courseware will be available in Romania in eBook format.

CCI Learning's IC3 courseware is designed to introduce the meaning of digital literacy and what can be accomplished using a computer. With the IC3 courseware, students learn popular software application programs as well as gain computer knowledge and skill sets that can be applied in business or school environments. IC3 courseware also introduces what the Internet is and what makes it so popular for communicating and sharing information with others.

"The Ministry of Education recognizes IC3 GS4 as equivalent to the Digital Competence examination that forms a compulsory part of the National Baccalaureate. We are very pleased that our students now have a modern eBook available in Romanian, which will help them in obtaining this internationally recognised certification", says Nuşa Dumitriu-Lupan, Chief Inspector for Informatics, Ministry of Education, Romania.

CCI Learning is excited to partner with Certipro with this initiative to make CCI Learning's IC3 courseware available in Romanian. "We at CCI Learning believe every lifetime deserves to be maximized and by offering our IC3 courseware in Romania, it expands the future opportunities of students who want to gain proficiency in digital literacy", says Malcolm Knox, President and CEO of CCI Learning.

Certipro is also pleased with the partnership with CCI Learning making IC3 eBook courseware available to students in Romania. "We're delighted to launch this comprehensive IC3 eBook in Romanian. It's the most complete digital resource that students in Romania can use to gain IC3 certification", says David Ford, Director of Certipro. David continues by saying, "this eBook enables students to learn when they want, where they want. We believe that it is a must-have for any student who is preparing for IC3 certification or the Baccalaureate Digital Competence exam or want their digital skills globally recognized."

By combining CCI Learning's excellence in pedagogy and instructional design with Certipro's distribution and translation skills, this partnership will give learners throughout Romania the opportunity to earn industry recognized certification and develop skill sets needed in this technologically advancing world.
